TRAIN THROWN INTO STREET

ACCIDENT ON NEW YORK ELEVATED

Twelve Person Killed Outright and Forty Injured—Difference of Opinion as to Cause—Other Railroad Accidents.

New York, Sept. 11.—Ten persons were killed and more than forty injured by the derailment of an elevated railroad train at Fifty-third street and Ninth avenue today. The train was a southbound Ninth day. It was a switchman, a switchman blundered and threw a switch after one car had passed over it, causing part of the train to go on one track and the balance on another. One car left the track and fell into the street, landing upside down. Passengers in the cars remaining on the structure were able to reach the street by climbing through windows of adjacent buildings.

There is a dispute as to the cause of the accident. Coroner Scholer and some others maintained the switchman on duty at the junction of the two lines first set the switch so as to throw the train onto the Sixth avenue track, and then, realizing his error, tried to rectify it by moving the switch while the train was passing over it. General Manager Hedley asserted the switch was not moved after the train reached it and the train jumped the track because of the speed with which it took the curve, which was not banked and intended to be taken slowly.

The rescue of passengers planned down by wreckage was begun immediately. Eight persons were dead when taken out of the wreck and four died later at hospitals.

Conductor Johnson declares that signals were set wrong and that that was the cause of the accident. The switchman, however, insists that the signals were correct, but that the train, instead of slowing down at the curve, maintained its usual speed.

LOST HIS POSITION

Government Official Marries Actress and Is Removed From Office.

Muscogee, I. T., Sept. 11.—Lawrence Brown, an inspector for the department of the interior, whose hasty marriage to Miss Florence Hargraves, of Colorado Springs, a member of the chorus with the Irma Opera company, caused a sensation at the Oklahoma capital, has been dismissed from the service and a quasi-public notice given that marriages on one day's acquaintance are not looked upon with favor by the interior department.

When Mr. Brown and his bride reached Muscogee yesterday Brown was summoned to the office of Inspector J. George Wright and notified that his resignation had been called for by order of the president. Brown was in Guthrie early last week on official duty. Monday evening he attended the performance given by the Irma Opera company. After the show Brown and others made up a supper party, to which several of the chorus girls were invited. Before the evening had passed Brown proposed to Miss Hargraves. The ceremony took place the following day. In some manner the story reached Washington and yesterday came the order calling for Brown's resignation.

Monteleone, Calabria, Sept. 11.—The king, accompanied by Minister Ferraris, journeyed in an automobile through Monteleone, San Orlorio, Zammaro, Piacopio and other stricken villages. ## SITUATION GROWING WORSE

RIOTERS CONTINUE THEIR ATTACKS AT RAKU

Seventeen Workmen Killed by Soldiers Sunday—Another General Strike Reported at Warsaw.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—The latest private telegram from Raku reports the situation there growing worse. Unconfirmed dispatches assert the rioters are stubbornly continuing their attacks and Tartars and Kurds are plundering in the "Blacktown" district. #### HELINGSFORS, FINLAND, SEPT. 11.

Customs officials Saturday discovered 600 carbines of Swedish manufacture with bayonets and 120,000 cartridges on a barren island in the Gulf of Bothnia, near Kerni. Sunday morning a boat belonging to the customs service discovered a 300-ton steamer near Kalfskär rock, twenty miles outside Jakobstad. The captain declared the steamer was loaded with rifles and cartridges and thereupon the customs officials ordered the captain to take his vessel into port and discharge the cargo.

The steamer proceeded toward shore, the customs boat going toward a nearby island. Suddenly several explosions were heard from the steamer and customs officers, returning, found the vessel sinking and her crew in lifeboats disappearing rapidly toward the south. Officers immediately pressed into service a number of fishermen, who unloaded most of the rifles and ammunition on the beach. The steamer grounded in shoal water. American and German flags were found on board the vessel.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 11.—News from Finland of the accidental discovery of the importation of rifles and munitions in large quantities is the most serious disclosure regarding the revolutionary movement in Russia yet made, as it indicates the intention to form a regular military organization. It is considered here that the active faction of the young Fenoman party of Finland is probably involved in the conspiracy and it is recalled that the investigation into the assassination of General Bobrikoff, governor general of Finland, in June last year disclosed the existence of a society formed for the purpose of importing arms.

TO DEPORT ARMENIANS.

Boston, Sept. 11.—Advices have been received here that five hundred Armenians have been gathered at Harpoot and two hundred at Malatia, Turkey, and thrown into prison to be deported to this country. The prisoners, it is said, are all returned immigrants, some having gone from the United States as far back as 1898. When the prisoners reach the United States, it is believed, most of them will be deported.

SKIRMISH IN MANCHURIA.

Tokio, Sept. 11.—Japanese in north Korea dispatched a banner of a flag of truce to Russians, but the Russians refused to treat owing to nonarrival of notice that an armistice was to be arranged.

Skirmishing occurred in Manchuria on Sept. 9. Two companies of Russian infantry with two guns opened an attack, but were outfought by Japanese and fled in disorder, leaving forty corpses.

USED A PITCHFORK

Minnesota Man Killed His Father in Law—Locked in Room With Body.

Crookston, Minn., Sept. 11.—Fred Wilde is under arrest here for beating to death his father-in-law, John Kismann. Wilde was working on his farm yesterday when his horse became mired. He took a pitchfork and was prodding them, when his father-in-law remonstrated. Wilde beat Kismann over the head with the handle of the fork, crushing his skull. The old man staggered home and soon afterward died. Mrs. Wilde, afraid to apprise her husband of her father's death, remained locked in a room with the dead body until this morning, when she escaped to a neighbor's and gave the alarm.

PEACE ABANDONED

Vienna, Sept. 11.—All hope of peace between the crown and union opposition in the Hungarian diet seems to have ended. It is understood that Emperor Francis Joseph, who at first was apparently inclined to acquiesce in the plan of the Hungarian ministers for granting universal suffrage as one way of bringing about the defeat of the union opposition, has been induced to change his mind by the Austrian ministers, who feared the effect on political conditions in Austria if universal suffrage should be granted the Hungarians.

ALTON BUYS TERMINAL

Deal Will Greatly Change Peoria Facilities.

Prominent railroad men of the country who have been watching with interest the negotiations of the Chicago & Alton Railroad company concerning the purchase of the Peoria & Pekin Terminal railroad, hear with interest the present confirmation of the report that the purchase has been made, but the price, which is not known yet, has not changed hands. The report is that the Terminal railroad properties have been sold to the Chicago & Alton Railroad company and the transaction is complete with the exception that the money has not yet been paid. The C. & A. will operate the Terminal lines and will extend a line from Grove to Washington, from where they will have an independent entrance into Peoria. The deal made is a great benefit to the city of Peoria as well as to the Alton railroad. To Peoria it will mean a great change in its terminal facilities and for the Alton a combination with the Rock Island and an independent entrance into Peoria, which will extend the freight business of that road.

The reason the Alton and other roads were anxious to gain possession of the Terminal line is that the road was making rapid progress in the railroad world and was talking intelligently of extending their line to Peoria and thence to Ramsey, thus gaining the chance of appropriating a vast amount of the business that otherwise would fall upon the Alton. The next anticipated step to be taken by the Alton officials will be to form an alliance of their interests and those of the Rock Island in Peoria. It is rumored also that the Alton will build a bridge across the river from Grove, ending near the Great Western distillery, from where the tracks of the Rock Island will give the Alton trains access into the Rock Island depot, and entrance into Peoria over independent tracks.

Two years ago Button was worth $1,200,000, but he is said to have lost it all by speculation.

Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

New York, Sept. 11.—President Paul Morton outlined the policy of the management of the Equitable Life Assurance society in an address to seven hundred and fifty agents who came from different parts of the country. He said businesslike methods will prevail and that investments will be of the highest character. The new management, he said, will insist on an annual audit of its affairs by an unbiased and independent accountant, and that there will be no attempt to deceive anybody. Retirements already amount to over $500,000 per year, and this saving will be largely increased.

Bloomington, Sept. 11.—Job printers to day struck for the eight-hour day in all but two shops in Bloomington. These two signed the agreement.

Annoyed the Butler.

Stony Wold was holding its annual meeting at the house of Mrs. Herbert J. Satterlee, J. Pierpont Morgan's daughter. As always happens on such occasions, the hour set for beginning found the women still arriving. Mrs. Satterlee's butler, a tall, magnificent creature with the features of a high church curate and the frame of a viking, who opened and closed the drawing room door, was greatly distressed by these late arrivals. At last as a richly caparisoned dowager rustled up: "Would you please to wait a minute outside, mum?" he entreated. "There's a bit of a prayer on."

The Electrician Forgot.

Francis Wilson, the comedian, believes the most abashed man lives in New Rochelle. Last summer Mr. Wilson's front door bell got out of order and refused to ring, and meeting a friend, an electrician, he asked him to call and make the necessary repairs. Meeting the man several days afterward, he reminded him that the matter had not been attended to and inquired when he could find it convenient to look after it. The electrician indignantly replied:

"Why, I called at your house the very day you asked me. I rang the front door bell time and time again, and no one paid the slightest attention to me." Success Magazine.

BECOMING CARELESS

People of New Orleans Blamed for Not Continuing Fight on Yellow Fever.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—Fever report up to 6 p. m.: New cases, 28. Total cases, 2,327. Deaths, none. Total deaths, 316. The fact that the general mass of the people are not working with the same zeal that marked the earlier stages of the fight is given by the authorities as one of the reasons why yellow fever here is not declining steadily as it was a couple of weeks ago. The death rate continues exceedingly low, however.

The situation at Tallulah and Lake Providence is now causing the state board of health more concern than anywhere else in the state. The town has less than a thousand population, but fever is generally distributed over it and is virulent in type. Menominee, Mich., Sept. 11.—It is believed John Howe, of Marquette, has yellow fever. Howe returned Friday from Louisiana. He was taken sick in Chicago and it is believed he contracted the disease at New Orleans on his way home. Physicians claim symptoms are of yellow fever.

AT PENSACOLA.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 11.—Nine new cases and one death is the yellow fever record to day. The death was that of A. Wolfberg, vice consul of Norway, who died to day after a brief illness. He was taken ill five days since and did not call a physician, the case being located by inspectors. A post mortem revealed the fact that he died of a most malignant type of fever.

A DENIAL

German Paper Corrects Report Regarding Commercial Treaty.

Cologne, Rhinish Prussia, Sept. 11.—The Cologne Gazette in an inspired dispatch from Berlin corrects the report published to one of the Berlin newspapers from New York asserting President Roosevelt had written German Ambassador Sternburg informing him that the concessions offered the United States by Germany were insufficient to induce the United States government to make a commercial treaty with Germany, because the United States would be giving up more than it would receive. The paper denies that any such letter has been written or that Germany has already made specific offers to the government at Washington. German authorities, the dispatch goes on to say, are, however, working assiduously upon preliminary preparations for treaty negotiations.

A PIONEER.

Monday the Journal had a pleasant visit from the venerable J. M. Cox, who has a record certainly unique. His home is two and a half miles south of Orleans and his place is described locally as in 3-1-4, while the peculiarity in his history is the fact that his entire life has been spent on the farm where he was born, Feb. 10, 1825. His father came from Kentucky and during his residence had many friendly Indian neighbors from whom he received acts of kindness, which he gladly returned. The caller was married Feb. 26, 1846, to Sarah M. Petrie, also of the same neighborhood, and who can almost equal the record of her worthy husband. They are the parents of four children, Mrs. Anell Buchanan of the county, Mrs. Johnson, residing on Clay avenue in this city, John M., living in Sangamon county, and Hubert, on the home place. There are also thirteen grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Both Mr. Cox and his wife are in reasonably good health and bid fair to come very near reaching par should no accident or acute disease overtake them. Mr. Cox would like to know if any man can show such a record as his.

MEREDOSIA WON GAME.

Meredosia defeated Barry Sunday in a well played game of ball on the Meredosias grounds, by a score of 4 to 2. The batteries were: C. Welch and Doyle; Wilson and Lazen. Doyle and Clancy of this city played with Meredosias, the former getting one hit out of four times at bat, and the latter a hit and a run out of five times up.

Policy Outlined in Address to Agents by President Morton—Retirements Amount to Thousands of Dollars.

Boston, Sept. 11.—O'Connell to day delivered his annual address before the convention of International Machinists. He deprecated trivial strikes. "We do not interfere with the rights of any individual mechanic to seek employment where he will," he said, "but we do reserve the right to say with whom he shall work. If we secure through our efforts better conditions of employment, we have the right to say that mechanics enjoying the results of our labors shall contribute to the success of our organization in maintaining improved conditions secured by us."

Reports show a total membership of over 100,000 and that $75,617 strike benefits have been paid.

Down In Louisiana

When the yellow fever broke out the first thing the authorities turned their attention to was the water. They even went so far as to kill the mosquitoes and other insects which bred about the water in order to prevent the spread of the disease through them.

Typhoid fever, malaria and, in many cases, bowel trouble is caused by drinking bad water. Now ice is put over the water—and bad water makes bad ice. The freezing only changes the form—not the condition.

Spring water is the purest water that flows—naturally it makes the purest ice. Our ice is taken from a spring-fed lake—thus we can assure our customers that it is PURE ice.

In face of these facts, don't you believe you had better call up Illinois 10 and 13 or Bell 516 when you want ice? We do.

THE SENATORSHIP

Gossip Regarding the Contest for Senator From Different Points of View.

(From the Inter Ocean.)

If something does not happen soon in the pending contest for the United States senatorship, a lot of Republican politicians in Illinois will be suffering from nervous prostration.

Thus far Senator Cullom is the only candidate openly in the field; his friends are hoping to goodness that he may remain alone in the contest.

The Cullom people would like, of course, that no other candidate would make a fight. But they do not know what is going to happen.

They are worrying as to what Yates and Hamlin and Sherman and Deenen may do.

They change their opinions frequently. Not long since the Cullom men were declaring that Yates would not be a candidate, that Governor Deenen would keep out of the fight, and that by the time of the state primaries next April there would be no opposition to "Uncle" Shelby.

Later they spread the report that Yates would be a candidate. What the basis for this opinion was was not made public, but the new gossip by the Cullom men came just after the senator and Governor Deenen had a two hours' talk in Springfield.

The Yates followers, or rather some of them, are not satisfied with the situation. The more ardent of the former governor's supporters are saying that, in their opinion, Governor Deenen should openly declare himself in favor of Yates as a candidate for senator. Others of the Yates following assert that they have faith in Governor Deenen and that they believe he will support Yates, but that he wants to do the work in his own way.

In consequence of this situation Mr. Yates is receiving divergent advice from his friends. Some of them are advising him to bide his time and trust in Governor Deenen and that all will be well. Others are urging him to declare himself a candidate for the senate forthwith, and to prepare for a vigorous campaign in the state without waiting for any declaration by the governor. This element among the Yates men say that the former governor should go out in the state and make his fight and win what he can, and then put Governor Deenen up against the proposition of either standing by Yates or showing himself to be ungrateful for what Yates did for him in the state convention.

It is said that Yates inclines first to one of these views and then to the other, but that his inactivity up to date has been by advice, if not of the governor himself, at least of some of the men known to be close to the administration.

The Yates men are not agreed as to what would be best for the former governor in the event of Sherman and Hamlin becoming candidates for the senate.

Some of the Yates leaders advise that Yates should insist that he alone should make the race against Cullom in the primaries, and that he should have the support of the Yates-Deenen-Sherman-Hamlin combination that controlled the state convention on the last ballot and made Deenen governor and Sherman lieutenant governor. Others think it would be better for Yates if Sherman and Hamlin were to enter the primaries, because whatever votes Sherman and Hamlin would get would be a loss to Cullom. This class of the Yates men believe further that Hamlin could beat Cullom in Cook county, whereas they admit that in a straight fight between Yates and Cullom the latter would probably have the better of it in Cook county, and this advantage would help Cullom in a count of the whole state vote.

With Cullom, Yates, Sherman and Hamlin in the field, the chances are that no one of them would have a majority of the whole state vote on the senatorship. Each would have majorities in a number of senatorial districts. This would send the whole senatorial proposition to the legislature, where it will have to go any way, because the senatorial primaries are only to give opportunity for an expression of sentiment by voters.

It is now confidently expected that something definite will happen at or before the state fair, in the first week of next month.

It is understood by the friends of Yates, and it is predicted by the friends of Governor Deenen, that by that time such action will be taken by the governor as will indicate his future course in the senatorial contest. Sherman and Hamlin will probably have decided by that time whether or not they will be candidates. If all this should happen, the lines would be pretty well drawn by the middle of next month.

The situation in Cook county will be an important factor in the senatorial muddle, and it may have an important bearing on Governor Deenen's future in politics. It is certain that some of the men who made Deenen a gubernatorial possibility by supporting him last year do not want to support Yates for senator. That the governor would like to see Yates beat Cullom is accepted as a fact by all who know what the governor has said in many conversations.

The question will be whether the governor can induce his followers in Chicago to be with him in supporting Yates, or, failing in this, will be willing to make a fight for Yates at the risk of losing control of the organization in Cook county. If Deenen should insist on the organization leaders being for Yates, they would have to choose between throwing their strength to Cullom and reinstating Congressman Lorimer as the Cook county leader instead of Deenen and of forfeiting all chance of securing the state patronage.

In any event some one is going to find himself in a hard predicament—Deenen of laying himself open to the accusation of being an ingrate to Yates and being in danger of losing the Yates following in the state, or of losing Cook county; the Deenen leaders here, of having to desert Deenen and losing their share of the state jobs, or of supporting Yates.

(From the Chicago Tribune.)
Two lines of political action have been laid out in Illinois, and if both are adhered to by the leaders who have planned them the result will be a collision with large and interesting consequences.

Governor Deenen proposes to control the state legislature for state administration purposes. He proposes, if possible, to have a legislature which can be depended on to adjust itself to the next party platform without the aid of an adjuster with a club. The work of adjusting in the latter fashion has proved wearing on both the adjuster and the club, and doesn't seem to do the legislature much good.

He wishes to have the next United States senator elected by the legislature in conformity with the popular vote in the spring primaries, but the state administration will endeavor to make the federal question subordinate to the state question. Deenen will preach to the state that it is of more importance to secure a good legislature than it is to elect any one particular man United States senator.

The other plan is laid by the federal organization in the state. It contains as many, if not more details, including the following:
Control of Illinois in the next national convention by Cullom, Hopkins, Lorimer and Cannon, who shall be the Illinois delegates at large.
Election of Cullom to succeed himself as United States senator.
Election of Hopkins to succeed himself as United States senator.
Rehabilitation of Lorimer as a political power in Cook county.

Incidentally it may include some higher political aspirations for Speaker Cannon. There are those who do not think that he is too old to make a candidate for president.

These two plans cannot proceed far in the same state, even in a good sized state, without running into each other, and the prediction is that the meeting place will be Cook county.

Deenen, with an optimism in which he does not place much real credence, has been going on the assumption that there will be nothing in the plans of the federal party to interfere with his state plans. His proposition to pledge candidates for the legislature is gaining favor down the state and has been taken up by the country newspapers.

Cullom is evasive, protecting his friendship for the governor individually, and his best wishes for party harmony generally. The time when the state administration will have to act has not arrived, but the state leaders understand that it is approaching.

They admit that the probabilities are they will have to select a candidate for United States senator, bring him into Cook county and fight Lorimer with him. They affirm that Lorimer is conducting the Cullom campaign and that down the state Cullom men are being brought into Chicago to get their orders.

(From the State Register.)

Will he pitch camp with Yates and endeavor to regulate Quin Paul, Shelby, the old man and act as a prop to guide his enfeebled steps on another trip to the great political Mecca of the east?

These are questions that are being frequently asked upon the streets of Springfield and every other city in the state nowadays and much interest is manifest in the outcome, for it is generally believed that Governor Deenen's aid on either hand will mean a victory. This is talked of here and there continually, secret meetings with the two senatorial aspirants are every day accredited to Governor Deenen at the conclusion of each of which the Illinois executive is said to be "for" the candidate with whom he has been closeted, yet through it all Mr. Deenen goes about his business, says nothing and has apparently sufficient "troubles of his own" to keep him out of the rays of the calcium as regards the senatorial fight.

Will Governor Deenen remain neutral? Is another question that some of the wise ones are asking each other. If he does, say some of the leading politicians of the state, he will seal his own death warrant politically, and many who claim to know all about the political elements state positively that it will soon be up to the governor to show his hand and come out for either Yates or Cullom.

In this latter contention there seems to be much merit in the face of a recent example in state politics. They cite that when John R. Tanner wished to be senator to succeed Cullom, Governor Yates was asked to get in line with the Tanner forces and dispose of Cullom entirely, but desiring to be fair on both sides and believing that it would leave him in a better position for the future, Governor Yates declined to take a hand in the affair and as a result Cullom was sent back and is still in the race to cause Yates some tall riding. The wise ones point this out as an incentive to Governor Deenen and state that when this matter is brought to mind it seems almost impossible that the governor will sit by and attend to his own affairs and not take a chance for the fu-

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye, matter or dangerous drugs. It always itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. ture by tying up now with one or the other of the senatorial candidates.

Which candidate can offer the better inducement to the governor for his aid is a matter of much speculation. The Chicago Chronicle comes out with a statement to the effect that Deenen and Cullom have already made a combine for the overthrow of Yates' aspirations on a basis of state committee control for Deenen two years hence, but this statement received little credit in Sangamon county and the consensus of opinion here is that when the going gets tough Governor Deenen will be found in the camp of the Yates party. "Either 'thar or 'tharabouts."

When interviewed by a State Register representative Governor Deenen declined to discuss the situation, stating that he had enough other troubles outside of the senatorial fight to keep him comfortably busy.

ALTON CONDUCTOR TOOK HIS LIFE

For the past four or five months Mr. Arnold had been suffering from locomotor ataxia. Recently, however, his condition became better, and he hoped to resume his work within a short time, being told by his physician that he might, perhaps, ultimately wear off his affliction. A week ago he suffered an attack of malarial fever, and his old malady returned with redoubled force. Mrs. Arnold stated that her husband suffered intensely Saturday night, when he was unable to sleep.

The deceased was born in Milan, Ind., fifty-seven years ago, and had been in the railroad business practically all his life since he reached manhood, having been with the Chicago & Alton railroad for a quarter of a century. He was well known among railroad men in Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and other central states. His last run was from St. Louis to Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Arnold was a prominent Mason, being a Knight Templar in the Hugh de Paynes commandery, No. 29, of Carrollton, Ill. He was a member of the Order of Railway Conductors and of the A. O. U. W. He is survived by his widow, Mary, and two daughters, Annie K. and Lucile Arnold.

The funeral will be held in Roodhouse this afternoon under the auspices of the Masons and the Order of Railway Conductors. James Normile of this city will attend the services.

Mr. Arnold was well known in this city and his sad end was learned with deep regret, especially in railroad circles. He formerly had a passenger run between Bloomington and Roodhouse.

CURE FOR SICK HEADACHE.

We had a letter from a lady in Boulder, Colo., that should be of interest to people troubled with sick headache. She writes that she had these spells four times a week, was obliged to remain in bed from eight to ten hours each time. The attacks became more frequent, doctors did no good. Seeing an advertisement of Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills, she decided to try once more and sent 50c for two boxes. She took the last pill four months ago, has not had a sick spell for over five months. Druggists sell these pills. They cure sick headache every time. One for a dose. Made by Dr. Bosanko Co., Philadelphia, Pa. Lee P. Allcott, Agent.

LIFE INSURANCE RATES.

"Assemblyman Merrill, a member of the committee investigating the New York Life Insurance companies, suggests that there may be something in the matter with the actuary table of the companies," says the New York Journal of Commerce. There is no question that the improvements in sanitary and medical science and practice in the last fifty years have lengthened the span of life and increased its "chance," and though the tables of the actuaries may have been correct enough when they were made, they need to be "brought up to date." It is evident the big companies now being investigated have been getting too much income from the premiums of policy holders. This indicates that the premiums are figured too high for the actual risk.

NOMINATION PETITIONS.

The attorney general has handed down the following decisions:
The recent amendment to the general election law which provides the form of petition to be used by persons desiring to have their names placed upon the ballot to be used at the general election is not applicable to petitions for the nomination of candidates before a primary election. Under section 21 of the primary election act, a primary elector may sign any number of petitions for the nomination of candidates of his own party for any county office.

A foreign insurance company authorized by its charter to do a multi-form insurance business authorized by its charter, may transact such business in this state.

Japanese bonds are subject to taxation under our law the same as other credits, stocks and bonds.
Where indebtedness has been created for the purchase price of lands, and notes have been given therefor, such indebtedness does not come within the terms of section 28 and credit should be allowed therefor and should be deducted from credits.

Fines for contempt procured and imposed through the efforts of the state's attorney—he would have a lien on such fine to be applied on any unpaid fees or earnings, but if the fine for contempt of court was imposed by the court without any action of the state's attorney, he would not have a lien therefor for any of his unpaid earnings.

THE NOBEL PRIZE.

Since the successful termination of the peace conference at Portsmouth, which was largely brought about through the ceaseless efforts of President Roosevelt, he has been mentioned as a worthy candidate for the Nobel prize. This prize, besides carrying with it great honor to the recipient, has also an intrinsic value of $30,000, which is only one-fifth of the amount annually awarded. Alfred B. Nobel, a Swedish inventor, died in 1896 leaving an estate of over $8,000,000, the income from which is to be divided into five equal parts and annually given as prizes to the persons who:
1. Had made the most important discovery or invention in physics.
2. Had made the most important improvement or discovery in chemistry.
3. Had made the most important discovery in physiology or medicine.
4. Had produced in literature the most distinguished work of an idealistic tendency.
5. Had most or best promoted the fraternity of nations or the world's peace.

The academies of Sweden and the Swedish storting make the awards and five distributions have taken place, and it is a lamented fact that not an American so far is in the list of prize winners. The New York Independent believes in American genius and is taking a popular vote to ascertain whom Americans look upon as their great men, with a view to pushing them for the prize. Among the conspicuous ones now suggested in the realm of physiology or medicine are: Abbott, Atwater, Loeb, Cochr, Mathews, Prudden, Senn, Welch and Andrew T. Still, founder of osteopathy. Among those who have received this distinction are: Professor Roentgen, discoverer of the X-Ray; Dr. Finson, inventor of the light cure; Dr. Ross, discoverer of the parasite of malaria; Dr. Emil Behring, discoverer of diphtheria antitoxin; and Archemus and Curie, joint discoverers of radium.

SLIGHTLY INJURED.

The venerable Thomas Butler, of Woodson, visited Denver during the national G. A. R. encampment and while alighting or getting on a street car was thrown to the ground and badly shaken up and bruised. From the best accounts that could be ascertained his injuries are not serious, but will leave him sore for quite a while.

HARMONY.

Editor Journal: The Republican party of the United States should feel a just pride in their leader, our courageous president, Theodore Roosevelt. All the world, including our Democratic friends, applaud Mr. Roosevelt as a winged angel that never tired until that olive branch was laid at the feet of the Russian and Japanese envoys at Portsmouth, hence we should try to emulate our valiant president, and as Mr. Danskin says in his good letter in a recent issue of the Journal, let us have peace and harmony.

A few weeks ago I suggested in my letter in the Journal the wisdom of washing off our war paint, pluck from our hats our war plumes and substitute for those emblems of party strife and political suicide the olive branch that will be to us both strength and harmony.

Mr. Danskin quotes some very pertinent resolutions passed by our Republican county convention. Well, after the publication of my letter, I met Capt. J. E. Wright, and this solid leader complimented my sentiments. I then told Mr. Wright that I had copies of the Daily Journal that I would publish; but Mr. Danskin in a clever manner anticipated my purpose. I am thankful, but I will go a step farther and say that in the convention of five years ago the movers of those resolutions were the Hon. Richard Yates and the Hon. M. T. Layman, in his usual well chosen speech, spoke in glowing praise of the re-election of Shelby M. Cullom, to succeed himself as senator. If we Republicans would bury our selfishness and review the record of Senator Cullom we would with one acclaim be a unit in returning Senator Cullom. Practical politics suggests his re-election. He is to day, as in the past, a prudent and a safe man, a man respected and feared by our political friends, the Democratic party of Illinois.

There is no good sense in us lying awake at nights to hatch up some scheme that would help our foolish ambition to go to our county convention with our war paint on and a shillelah (stick) under our coat to smash a Yates man or a Cullom man. We need harmony. This county is no longer the sure thing for a Democratic nominee. The sunshine of national prosperity has eliminated (I hope forever) Democratic soup houses. We rejoice in the fact that want and hunger and starvation do not invade the home of the toiling workman, the mother with her children, the father with his family, and the man with his wife and children. Our public schools attest the fact that the school room is full of cheerful pupils, all well dressed; the teacher's job is now a sinopure. As we pass the homes of those contented families the sweet melody of the sweet notes of a piano greets our ears; thus furnishing mother and children are happily supplanted with cheerfulness produced by Republican laws which are shaped in a large measure by that veteran legislator, Shelby M. Cullom.

We must have peace, we must, as Grant so well said, "let us have peace." If we would help to conserve the best interest of our party, we should, as Mr. Danskin so well says, "Wipe away this strife and be a unit." Many candidates means to us political death. Yours for peace, M. J. Cleahan.

C. R. Taylor and wife have returned from Denver, where they attended the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. They unite with many others in testifying to the excellent treatment accorded the veterans in the capital of Colorado. There was throughout a kindly spirit manifested, a generous willingness on the part of all citizens to afford the visitors all possible information and assistance, and there seemed to be little or no attempt to extort or rob the many visitors. Especially were they pleased with the conduct of the restaurants, which seemed to lower their prices rather than raise them. Such action as this can only be commendable and leave most pleasant recollections on the part of all who made the pilgrimage to Denver.

SCHOOLS OPEN AGAIN

The public schools of the city opened Monday morning with a good attendance and under favorable auspices. The weather was pleasant, the teachers on hand in fine shape, the scholars generally in good spirits and the beginning was favorable for a good year's work. At the high school Rev. R. O. Post, D. D., was present and conducted devotional services, selecting as a suitable passage of scripture 2 Peter 1:5-8, drawing therefrom some excellent lessons which he eloquently enforced after his usual capable and energetic manner, making a fine impression on the young members of his audience.

Superintendent Furr was also present and for the first time formally addressed the pupils of the high school. His remarks throughout were admirable, abounding in timely advice and excellent suggestions. The gentleman certainly made a highly favorable impression and gave evidence of first class qualities as an instructor.

S. W. Nichols spoke, and then the announcements were made by the worthy principal, Prof. A. H. Glasgow, and the members of the school repaired to their respective places for work.

The music was an impressive feature of the exercises and was a pleasure to all present.
Below is a comparative list of the enrollment in the public schools for the years 1904 and 1905. The figures for 1904 were taken a week after the opening of school and those for this year on the opening day. The totals indicate that the attendance this year will greatly exceed last year.

School.	1904.	1905.
High school	260	297
Eighth grade	136	100
First ward	442	458
Second ward	330	325
Third ward	410	375

FUNERAL SERVICES

Last Sad Rites Held for Col. Edmund C. Kreider Sunday at Grace M. E. Church—Other Funerals.

The funeral of Col. Edmund C. Kreider took place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Grace M. E. church. The services were deeply impressive and the ministers in charge paid eloquent and well deserved tributes to the memory of a good man. The main auditorium of the church was crowded to its capacity with friends and members of the Masonic of this and other cities, who were present to pay their respect to the memory of the deceased.

Hospitalier Commandery, Knights Templar, and the Masonic brethren of Jacksonville acted as an escort from the residence to the church and the services at the grave were in charge of the Knights Templar, of which organization Mr. Kreider had been prelate for a number of years.

The pulpit and chancel rail were hidden beneath the beautiful floral offerings, which bore silent but significant testimony to the thoughtfulness of loving friends, and in addition there was a profusion of cut flowers.

Dr. H. H. Oneal, pastor of the decedent; Dr. W. F. Short, Dr. W. H. Musgrove and Rev. J. L. Wylder were in charge of the exercises. Mr. J. Philip Read was at the organ and a quartet composed of Miss Anne Young, Miss Corinne Musgrove, John L. Johnson and Oliver Mason sang appropriate selections.

The Knights Templar occupied seats immediately behind the family in the center of the church and the Masons were seated on the west side of the auditorium.

After the organ prelude the quartet sang: "How Sweet to the Soul is Communion with Saints." Dr. Oneal then read the scripture lesson. Dr. Musgrove invoked the divine blessing and his appeal to the throne of grace was uttered eloquently and with deep feeling. "By Cool Silom's Shady Rill" was then beautifully sung by the quartet, and the funeral discourse by Dr. Oneal followed.

The remarks of Dr. Oneal were based upon the text, John 3:28: "And I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand."

The theme was dwelt upon in a masterly manner and the pastor's reference to the outer and inner circles of friendship which touches human lives was peculiarly fitting to the occasion. As a man, as a citizen, and as a Christian, the life of Mr. Kreider was reviewed and his honest and upright character extolled.

Dr. W. F. Short, a life long friend and associate of Mr. Kreider, followed with remarks of a fitting character and the services were concluded with the eloquent utterance of Rev. J. L. Wylder, who spoke in behalf of the Masonic brethren, and whose pronouncement of the Masonic ritual was made most impressive.

Another hymn by the quartet: "Saints Rest," concluded the exercises at the church and the final services took place at Diamond Grove cemetery, where Eminent Commander Frank J. Heintz and Dr. W. F. Short, acting as prelate, conducted the ritualistic services of the Knights Templar. The body was deposited temporarily in the receiving vault.

The large number of floral emblems were in the care of Mrs. Geo. H. Huntton, Miss Lou Upham, Miss Alice Draper, of Springfield, and Miss Bess Smith. They included set pieces from Hospitalier commandery, Harmony and Jacksonville lodges and Jacksonville chapter of Masons, employees of the postoffice, employees of the Fitzsimmons-Kreider mill, and among the many tokens from friends mention is made of the floral piece sent by Marion Meadows, a colored boy in whom Mr. Kreider was always much interested and who has a shoe shining stand on West State street near his late residence.

The bearers were: Sir Knights

Those who were here to attend the funeral from a distance were: Dr. George N. Kreider and family and Miss Mariam B. Kreider, of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. John M. Kreider, of St. Louis; William J. Kreider, of Rodhouse, E. C. Kreider, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn., was unable to reach here owing to the quarantine established on account of the yellow fever in the south. Mrs. Henry Wyldkopp, of Lancaster, Ohio, a sister of Mr. Kreider, expected to arrive in time for the funeral, but was delayed at Indianapolis and did not reach Jacksonville until Monday.

There was a large representation of Ellwood Commandery, Knights Templar of Springfield in attendance at the services. They were: C. P. Kane, past grand commander of the department of Illinois; H. B. Henkel, J. D. Myers, J. P. Miller, J. D. Shaffer, C. Schermerhorn, C. E. Okel, W. H. Samons, Joseph Bennett, Elias Keemer and Arthur Pasfield.

Among those from other places were: W. H. Shellabarger of Decatur, Dr. F. W. McKinney of Alton, Judge Woodson of St. Louis and Miss Alice Draper of Springfield.

WADSWORTH.

The funeral of Mrs. Harry E. Wadsworth was conducted from the residence Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends from this city and other places. The impressive services were in charge of Dr. H. H. Oneal and Dr. W. F. Short.

Dr. Oneal delivered the funeral discourse, which was a masterly effort. He spoke of the different beliefs which prevail among the people of this and other countries, such as atheism, pantheism and other such wrong doctrines, and showed that the Christian religion was the only belief which offered any hope for the life to come, and in which all might find refuge. His remarks were of a deeply earnest character and created a profound impression upon all who heard them.

Beautiful selections appropriate to the sad occasion were sung by Mrs. Helen Read, Mrs. R. M. Hockenull, T. H. Rapp and John L. Johnson.

The great profusion of beautiful flowers indicated the loving remembrance in which the deceased was held. They were under the care of Mesdames J. J. Pither, E. C. Lambert, A. T. Capps and C. C. Capps.

At the conclusion of the services at the residence the remains were borne to Diamond Grove cemetery, where they were tenderly laid to rest. The bearers were: Richard Yates, Rev. Julian Wadsworth, E. E. Crabtree, F. E. Farrell, Walter Ayers and E. E. Nixon.

RAGUNTRIE.

The funeral of Mrs. M. M. Rountree was held at Mt. Emory Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Dr. W. F. Short, assisted by Rev. J. O. Derrick. Appropriate music was furnished by Sherman Spencer, Miss Victoria Spencer, Mrs. Ollie Robinson and Mrs. John Kirk.

The floral tributes were in charge of Mrs. Pauline Moore, Mrs. Hattie Mosely and Mrs. Mary Spencer.

At the conclusion of the services the body was taken in charge by the Queen Esther chapter No. 6, and at the conclusion of this service the remains were laid to rest in Jacksonville cemetery. The bearers were: Messrs. Bolden, Postley, George Coffman, Charles Moore, William Jones and James Young.

Those out of town attending the funeral were: Mrs. Julia Duncan, Miss Ada Duncan, Mrs. Clara Ware, Mrs. William Floravel and Mrs. Jennie C. McClain, of Springfield.

PARSONS.

At 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon a large and sympathetic audience assembled at the home of the late James A. Parsons to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of a man much respected for his good qualities. Rev. F. S. Hayden, D. D., read suitable portions of scripture, and Rev. R. O. Post, D. D., offered a fervent and eloquent prayer. There was no music. Monday morning the remains were taken to Greenville for interment.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The amount of travelling done by some of our birds is astonishing. Dr. Cooke says that the common night hawk spends the summer in Alaska and the winter in Patagonia.
The bobolink, which is the redbird of the middle states and the ricebird of the south, winters on the waving pampas of southern Brazil. It covers 700 miles from Cuba to the South American coast in a single flight, following a track not popular with other birds, which might be called the bobolink route.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

(Original.)
Gertrude Brett was an heiress. Heiresses are usually described as fearful that they will be married for their money, but Gertrude had always been used to the possession of wealth and did not appear to realize its value. Besides, she was ingenious and confident. Henry Dexter, the son of wealthy parents, loved her, but after deliberation she gave her heart to Clarence Hawley. At any rate, she accepted him. Gertrude had an intimate friend, Edna Clarke, and those who knew Hawley best declared that if Miss Clarke had been the heiress, instead of Miss Brett, Miss Clarke would have been Mrs. Hawley. What every one also saw Gertrude did not appear to see—that her friend wanted her lover. But Edna, while she was ostensibly Gertrude's friend and confidante, constantly accepting favors that Gertrude's wealth rendered possible, secretly hated the girl who was to wed the man she herself wanted.

But a still greater surprise was in store for them. When it was announced that Gertrude, who had no near relatives living, had made a will leaving half of her fortune to Edna and the other half to Clarence Hawley, people considered it time for some one to interfere. Unfortunately, there was no one near enough to the heiress to go to her and remonstrate. Since she was of age there was no authority to forbid the disposition she had made of her property.

The next thing in this chain of astonishing events was Gertrude's sailing for a trip abroad, accompanied only by Edna. It was considered a frightful indecency to crime. Edna, loving her benefactress' affianced husband, inheriting half of her fortune, while Hawley was heir to the remainder, would have every opportunity to get rid of the one who stood between her and wealth and love.

Strangely enough, there was at least every appearance that this extreme view of the case had come about. In Switzerland the two girls joined a party to ascend a mountain. Gertrude insisted on making a detour alone with a guide and separated for some time from the other tourists. When her guide rejoined the party he came without Gertrude, who, he reported, had slipped and fallen into a crevasse, thus losing half of her fortune. This was the story that Edna brought home, and with it she brought ample documentary evidence of its truth. Nevertheless, there were those who refused to believe it.

While legal proceedings were being taken to divide Gertrude's estate between the heirs it was announced that Hawley and Edna were engaged. Of course no one was surprised. It was simply considered an inevitable result of Gertrude's infatuation and that if murder had not been committed she had at least induced murder.

Meanwhile Henry Dexter, who sincerely loved Gertrude, went abroad secretly to look into the matter of the accident. But his departure became known. Since it did not seem to trouble the heirs, who were preparing for the wedding, the suspicions that clung to Edna were much allayed.

Cards for the wedding were issued, as usual, some time before the event was to come off. The wealth they were to receive did away with the prejudice against them, and people were looking forward to a brilliant affair. But one morning a week before the day set, society met with a shock. Some one—it was supposed through malice—mailed a number of invitations to the wedding of Henry Dexter and Gertrude Brett, to take place on the same day and hour as that of Clarence Hawley and Edna Clarke. There was great indignation at this outrage, as it was considered, and it was supposed that when Henry Dexter returned he would take pains to discover and punish the perpetrator. The bride and groom expected gave every evidence of being deeply wounded, and feeling, which had been against them, was turned in their favor.

The Dexter cards named the residence of Mrs. Whiting, a wealthy friend of Gertrude, as the place of the wedding, and society was surprised at the report that preparations were being made there for some important event. The night before the weddings, as announced, a startling report was circulated that both Dexter and Gertrude had been seen in town. The last link in the chain was the putting up of awnings leading from the street to Mrs. Whiting's residence.

At high noon the next day both weddings took place. The clergyman had scarcely pronounced Clarence and Edna man and wife before they were assured that at the same hour Henry and Gertrude had also been made one. In a twinkling their anticipations of wealth tumbled like air castles about them.

It turned out that Gertrude had not been so stupid after all. Suspecting her lover and her friend, she had kept her own counsel and laid a plan by which they should have every opportunity to prove or disprove her suspicions. During the mountain climb she had purposely separated herself from the party, bribed her guide to leave her at his home with his wife and report the fictitious accident. After Edna's engagement she had written Dexter, who immediately went to her. It was then that she and Dexter came to a decision as to their relations, and the forthcoming wedding was announced. The only revenge (she considered it rather a punishment for her friends' duplicity and Hawley's intention to marry her for money) that Gertrude cared to take was the double wedding.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, Sept. 11.—Wheat. The market opened firm and as trading advanced additional strength developed. Strength was due largely to the report made by the statistical committee appointed by the Federal government showing an increase of 12,000,000 bushels in winter wheat and 22,200,000 bushels in spring wheat as compared with last year's totals. Effect of these figures was to completely offset lower call and clear weather northward. Higher prices were noted without continued good export demand aided the bulls. The market closed strong, prices the highest point of the day. December up 1/2c. The visible increased 100,000 bushels. Corn trading was quiet most of the session. Early in the day sentiment was rather bearish, influenced by liberal receipts and excellent weather. Later strength of wheat started some covering by shorts, resulting in firmer market. The market closed firm, prices top for the day. December up 1/4c. The visible increased 225,000 bushels.

Cattle—Receipts were close to the season's record for one day, about 35,000 head. Heavy cattle, the market suffered a natural result was a break in prices. Just how much lower the market would average was a matter of opinion. The bulls did not all agree. Some sellers thought prices were off 10c, while others were willing a decline of 15c. The market was the middle division. There were 15,000 westerns and values were 10c to 15c lower on practically everything. The market was decidedly a slow one. Receipts, $7,000,000; stockers and feeders, $2,000,000; Texas, $1,500,000; westerns, $1,000,000.

Hogs—Receipts, 31,000. While hogs were heavy comparatively as the season in sheep and cattle, the market suffered about as severely, buyers taking off 5c for the decline on practically everything. Mixed and butchers, $5.50; light, $5.50; heavy, $5.50; bulk of sales, $5.50. Sheep—Receipts, 40,000. One of the heaviest runs of the entire season came to the market this morning and prices declined in a rapid pace. Receipts of 100,000 in sheep and as much as 2c in lambs showed how heavy sales were hit by the oversupply. Sheep, $5.50; lambs, $5.50.

FINANCIAL MARKET.
New York, Sept. 11.—The stock market remained under a shadow of the money situation to day. Influence was mostly sentimental, as there was little disturbance of loans and no notable change in the rate for money. The principal event of the day in the money market was advance in official discount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York from 3 to 4 per cent. It was generally expected that after the rise in the Bank of England, the Federal Reserve Bank would raise the rate, but advance of a full one per cent was not fully expected. Closing quotations: Money on call steady at 2 1/4 per cent; closing bid, 2 1/4; offered at 2 1/4. Time loans steady; six days at 3 1/4; ninety days at 4 1/4; six months at 4 1/2. ## DITCHING MACHINE

Arrived Monday and Is Now at Bluffs—Progress on Water Works Will Now Be Rapid—Material for Standpipe.

Interest in the waterworks project will be unusually keen from now on, as the arrival of the Buckeye traction ditcher means that the laying of pipe will begin as soon as the machine can be taken from the cars and set up. The ditcher reached Bluffs from Findlay, Ohio, Monday and a Chicago representative of the company is expected here to day to begin the work of unloading the machine and getting it ready for use. The ditching machine has a per diem capacity of digging a trench, five feet deep and thirty inches wide, a distance of 1,000 feet. It will require four men to operate the machine. Pipe has been scattered along the proposed right of way for a distance of three miles and cars of pipe are now arriving daily. The company furnishing this material has promised to supply pipe in sufficient quantities so that the digging of the trench will not be delayed when once put under way.

A clam shell dredge is now at work at Bluffs on the big well and Mr. Gardner stated Monday evening that his force of men at the waterworks site now numbered about thirty and that this number would soon be augmented. Mr. Gardner further stated that the property of the waterworks company in Scott county had been christened West Jacksonville, and that any one who visits this addition to our classic city will be treated to the best drink of water that ever tickled a palate.

Work on the pumping station at West Jacksonville is also progressing satisfactorily and the masonry work will soon be completed.

Material for the standpipe to be erected in this city near the College avenue distributing reservoir is arriving and a large amount is already on the ground.

The enterprise seems to be getting under stronger headway every day and while the work will be hindered somewhat by the cold weather, it is hoped to have water flowing through the pipes before early spring.

PLACED UNDER ARREST

John Wellington, alias John Metz, was arrested Monday morning by Policeman Trahey and lodged in the calaboose on the charge of counterfeiting. Wellington stoutly denies his identity, claiming that his name is John Metz, and that he has never before been in this city. He was positively identified, however, by a number of people as being a man who worked at the School for the Deaf last winter under the name of Wellington.

Wellington appeared at the School for the Deaf last winter and applied for work. He seemed to be in hard luck and was given employment by Fred Brown, the electrician at the institution. He knew the business and did well for a time. He was observed at times to be working with plaster of Paris moulds, and performing experiments of some kind. Nothing in particular was thought of the occurrence at the time, but when the man left suddenly a few charges that was to be made against charge that was preferred against him, a search of the room he had occupied revealed the presence of a small counterfeiting outfit. The kit contained plaster moulds for making silver dollars, quarters and five and ten dollar gold pieces. A quantity of the counterfeit coins and also two pieces of the metal from which they were made were also found. The metal used for the gold coins was given a yellowish cast by the admixture of some chemical, the character of which has not been determined. Two bottles containing chemicals were also found in the room.

The find was turned over the Superintendent Gillett, who gave some of the coins to Thomas Worthington, then United States district attorney, and he notified the federal authorities in Chicago. The strike at the time was occupying the attention of the authorities there, and the matter was neglected. Policeman Trahey was notified Monday morning of the presence of the man in the city with a gang of men putting up awnings, and apprehended him at the Meier building on the east side of the square. Wellington denied his identity, but was satisfactorily identified by persons who knew him while he was employed at the School for the Deaf. The moulds and counterfeit coins were also secured and are now at police headquarters.

During Wellington's residence in this city counterfeit coins were in circulation, but it was never learned from whence they came. The bogus coins are of poor color, but the impression is very good, and they might readily pass in a rush. The gold coins ring well, but are light in weight. All the coins have a greasy surface. Besides the moulds for making coins there is in the outfit a mould for making a key such as might be used in a Yale lock.

Wellington is a man about five feet eight inches in height and is probably 33 years of age. He has a rather dark complexion and wears a black mustache.

The federal authorities at Quincy were notified Monday afternoon, and a deputy United States marshal is expected to come for the prisoner. He will be taken before the federal grand jury, which is now in session at Quincy.
